Sometimes all it takes to re-center and refresh your mind and body is a good day (or week-who are we to limit you) staring off into a tranquil blue sea. To help you find your inner peace, and catch a few waves and rays while you're at it, Travel + Leisure has put together a list of some of the bluest waters in the world. These lakes, seas, beaches, and bays have vistas that range from brilliant navy blues to the lightest, clearest turquoises imaginable.

The Best New Luxury Train Trips...

Tricked-out new airplane cabins and cruise gadgets tend to steal the spotlight, but 2017 is shaping up as the year of luxury train travel. From Peru to Japan, new and newly refit locomotives are chugging along the rails, treating passengers to gourmet local cuisine in white-tableclothed dining cars, five-star service in sleeping suites, and old fashioned globe trotting camaraderie with other guests around the bar and in glass walled observation cars. Conde Nast Traveler has selected these six trips as the most noteworthy.

They were very happy with the hotel and the Thursday night cocktail party in particular, so thank you again for all of your hard work on setting those up.

It was a pleasure to work with you too. I know this particular bunch was not necessarily the easiest to please, but everything paid off and we generated some excellent momentum for the company.

I hope we have the opportunity to work together on future projects.

Sincerely,

Justin M.

American Airlines fleet modernization will help it fly past Delta, CEO says...

American Airlines (Nasdaq: AAL) has invested roughly $20 billion in aircraft in four years, giving the Dallas-based carrier the firepower to surpass Delta on a key industry metric. Those were American Airlines CEO Doug Parker's comments at last week's JPMorgan transportation conference, as reported by the Wall Street Journal and Dallas Business Journal this morning. Parker called American's buildup "the most aggressive fleet modernization in the history of the industry." By the end of this year, the average age of American's 950-aircraft fleet will be 9.8 years, down from nearly 14 years in 2012. The average fleet age is 10.4 years at Southwest, 14.4 years at United and 16.6 years at Delta.
